

Siversand Horsemanship Foundation Skills 3

True Unity is the term used by Tom Dorrance to describe the connection that is possible between man and horse. This is an amazing feeling that is well worth the effort to attain. Silversands courses and education program are aimed at teaching people the principles of good horsemanship by developing Feel, Timing and Balance. Without an understanding of these principles True Unity is not possible. Steves training method delivers this training in steps that are easy for you and your horse to understand, ensuring that you and your equine partner grow together to enjoy this wonderful harmony. Foundations Skills 3 covers the third ten skills you will need in your journey with Silversand Horsemanship. This book is suitable for riders of all ages & abilities who have a willingness to become better riders and horsemen - of horses from any discipline of breeding. Steve Halfpenny is the founder of Light Hands Horsemanship, the principal trainer for horses that come to the Silversand Centre in Australia, to be started or for re-training and also delivers the Light Hands Horsemanship Program. He travels extensively delivering clinics in Australia, NZ, UK, Ireland and Germany. His specialist style of training is not discipline specific and can easily be applied to any form of riding. As one of Equitana Australias successful trainers in the Way of the Horse, Australian Horsemanship Challenge 2010 and last year, as one of the six trainers who took on a wild Waler from Central Australia as part of Equitanas Waler Legacy Program, Steve has proven that with the right training, any horse can be a relaxed and willing riding partner.
