This baby book will help you to welcome home your newborn baby with less stress and more confidence than you ever thought possible. Written by a mother of three young children, And Baby Makes Three, Now What Do We Do? addresses the worries and fears that all new parents face and teaches essential skills for taking care of your new baby. What People Are Saying:***** This book was engaging and encouraging. Suzanne gave a review of the complexities of being a first-time parent of an infant with VERY practical solutions. - Mark Rhodes, PhD.***** This book has everything a new parent could want to know - kind of like your own nanny! - Lee Dobbins***** I started reading baby books because I will be a parent soon, and this baby book was by far the best one I have read out the 3 books I have bought so far. - Eric Lass Suzanne Doyle-Ingram's first newborn baby was extremely high needs, and she cried for hours and hours at a time. Suzanne was completely overwhelmed and alone and did not know what to do. Although she had read as much as possible before her baby was born, nothing prepared her for the crying and stress of not knowing what to do after her newborn baby arrived. Through trial and error, Suzanne and her husband learned sure-fire ways to get their newborn baby to stop crying, how to put her to sleep, how to calm her down, and much more. They became experts at taking care of their new baby. If you want to be a confident, successful, and relaxed parent, imitate one! It's just that simple. Does any of this sound familiar?
