

THE SCHOOL THAT LOVE BUILT- A True African Adventure (WHERE LOVE LEADS Trilogy Book 2)

As the Swedish doctor develops an AIDS vaccine against the disease which has decimated Africa, the American journalist explores the dusty streets of Dar es Salaam, Tanzania hoping for something important to do. Invited to a village school, she loses her heart to a handful of tots dancing to a goatskin drum in a tiny dark room of the teachers three-room home. But Fatuma Gwao has a dream and a foundation of bricks in her dirt yard. With donations from their weddings in the U.S. and Sweden, the pair makes this single Muslim mothers dream a reality. With help from donors world-wide, the two-room preschool grows to house seven grades and 200 children. GRANDMA-2-GRANDMA, a Smart Girls Club, an orphanage and a farm follow, as hundreds of AIDS orphans and poor people open their homes and hearts to their new bibi (grandmother) and babu (grandfather). Jann was an American relationship columnist without a sex life. Eric was a Swedish doctor specializing in sexually-transmitted diseases - but couldn't find love. Lost to one another for two decades until re-discovery on the Internet, their love would span two centuries and three continents. Pack up your heart and follow them: from San Francisco to Stockholm, Denver to Dar es Salaam, Seattle to Zanzibar from cable cars to a cabin on a Baltic island to an East African village where they build a school and adopt AIDS orphans and the grandmothers raising them. Let their fairytale but true romance rekindle your hope WHERE LOVE LEADS Jann Mitchell is the author of several books, including Home Sweeter Home and Love Sweeter Love; her work appears in many of the Chicken Soup and other anthologies. RIVER THROUGH MY SOUL is Book I in the WHERE LOVE LEADS Trilogy.
